Anniversary of the Discessar Societies.

The anniversary of the Bible and Common Prayer-Book, Tract, and Missionary Societies of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of New-York, was celebrated last evening at St. Bartholomew's Church, La Eayette-place. The house was well filled at an early hour, but considerable disappointment was expressed at the absence of Rev. Flavel S. Mines, who has lately returned from California and was expected to adiress the meeting. The exercises, however, were

Evening Prayer was said by Rev. Mr. CURTIS of Delaware Co .- Rev. Thos. GALLAUDET of New York reading the Lessons.

The Report of the "N. Y. Bible and Common Prayer Book Society" was then read by Rev. Mr. PROST. The Report gave no statistics, but showed that the Receipts of the past year have fallen somewhat short of the preceding year, and in consequence the issue of books has been limited. The Report reviewed at some length the happy influence exerted by the Church through the instru mentality of the Bible and the Prayer-Book-the ndamental works upon which the purity of the Church depends.

Rev. Mr. CANFIELD, Rector of St. Peter's Clurch, New-York, read a letter which he had received from FLAVEL S. MINES, apologizing for his unavoidable absence from the meeting, and giving a number of interesting statements relative to the is fluence of Bibles and Prayer Books on shipboard and in California. He expressed a hope that measures might be taken to supply Prayer Books to Companies leaving the Atlantic side for California. Not one of these books had been lost or lightly treated there, and Mr. Mines was of the opinion that great good would follow their general distribu-

Rev. Dr. McVickan, of Columbia College, gave some statements of the present condition of the various Diocesan Charities. In relation to the affairs of the Missionary Committee, we gathered that during the past year 39 Missionary stations have been established, and 28 Missionary stations have been established, and 28 Misslonaries appointed; 11 stations are reported vacant or without adequate means of supporting a minister.

The amount of payments by the Committee during the year has been $3,219 99. The amount due to Missionaries up to the 1st October, 1850, is $1,083 83. Total expenditures, $4,303 32. The amount of funds received by the Treasurer was $4,431 22; balance remaining, $128. This apparent balance is, however, in truth, a very large deficiency. There are eleven stations vacant. If ficiency. There are eleven stations vacant. If these had been filled, with the usual payment of $128 to each, the sum of $1,408 would have been required. Deduct the apparent balance, and there is left a deficiency of nearly $1,300. The necessi-ty of sustaining this important charity was strongy urged by Dr. McVickar.

The next Diocesan Society is the Educational.

There are 41 students in Divinity now receiving education in the Diocese, at an expense of about $4,000—the greater part of which sum is derived from endowments.

The "Prot. Episcopal Tract Society," has gra-

The "Prot. Episopai Tract Society," has gratuitously distributed during the year, the very large number of 1.847,700 pages. No applicant has been refused. Three editions of the Church Almanac have been sold, and Tracts have been sold to the number of 584,800 pages. The Society has already issued its almanac for the ensuing year, and has a good supply of Tracts.

The payments during the past year have amounted to $2,650. The total receipts have been only $1,717—leaving an alarming deficiency of $833.

The last institution cited by Dr. McVickar, and the one for which the contributions of the evening were intended, was the "Bible and Common Prayer Bock Society"—which was highly culogized by the Rev. Dr.; and which is the oldest Institution in the country for distributing the Bible. During the past year, Bibles and Prayer Bocks have been gratuitiously distributed to every part of the United States, to the Army, the Navy, the Merchant service, Hospitals, Alms-Houses, Prisons and to individuals—to the number of 672 Bibles; 769 Testaments; $,677 Prayer-Books, and 49 Paalas and Hymns. Pasims and Hymns.

The sales during the same period have been: 256 Hibles, 244 Testaments, 3,864 Prayer-Books, and 150 Pealms and Hymns.

The grand total is 14,672 volumes. The grand total is 14,672 volumes.
The Receipts have been as follows:

Dr. McVickar related several instances of happy results which had followed the introduction of Prayer-Broks into the Army. Within the past week a detachment of two hundred soldiers had been sent to a distant point from this harbor. He (the speaker) applied to this Bociety for a supply of Prayer-Pooks, which were granted and distributed to the men. They were received with eagerness. Instances had occurred where most salustary results had been attained. The Dr. was recently waited on by a returned soldier from Mexico who had held fast to his Prayer Book, and left the happsack.

At the conclusion of the Rev. Dr.'s remarks, a collection was taken up in aid of the funds of the Bible and Prayer Book Society—Rev. Mr. CURTIS reading the Offertory. The contributions were apparently very ample.

Prayers were then said, and the meeting at an early hour adjourned.

CITY ITEMS.

STEAMERS PACIFIC, FRANKLIN AND ASIA-TRI-AL TRIP AND RACE .- Yesterday at 12 o'clock a party of invited guests assembled on board the new California steamship Pacifie, (launched on Monday.) for the purpose of witnessing a trial of her powers. The Pacific is a beautiful ship of 1,200 tuns, built by Wm. H. Brown, and will be employed on the Pacific coast under charge of Capt. Jarvis. Among the gentlemen on board we noticed Gen. Paez, son and a few Spanish friends; Dapt Dunn, who is to command a ship which Mr. Brown was engaged to build; W. H. Brown, the noted steamship builder; Capt. Blivens of the North America; Mr. Dunham, maker of the Pacific's engine; Mr Minturn, and saveral other noted persons. In compliment to Gen Paez, his flag was carried at the fore.

Just before the Pacific started from the foot of Twelfth-st. E. R. the new Havre steamship Frank. lin came out from a slip a little higher up, quite un. expectedly to the visitors on the Pacific. The Franklin ran down the river, followed, in the course of fifteen minutes, by the Pacific When the Pacific rounded the Battery, the Franklin was a couple of miles below Governor's Island, and the Cunard steamer Asia, Capt. Judkins, had just left dock at Jersey City, and was moving off under a full head of steam. Capt. Jarvis ran the Pacific across the river, astern of the Asia, and when the P. was fairly brought about the Asia had two miles the start. At 121 o'clock the Pacific was abreast the Battery, and ran down in the wake of the Asia passed her with perfect ease at the Quarantine, passed the Narrows at 12:40, rounded the buoy at the South west Spit and was abreast of Sandy Hook at 1:20, making 20 miles in an hour and five minutes. When the Pacific was at the S. W. Spit, the Asia was three miles astern. As the P. passed the A. at the Quarantine, the vessels exchanged Meantime the Franklin had rounded to just above the Quarantine, and waited for the Aria to come. The F. followed the A at about two cables distance, and the strife became extremely interesting. It was hardly possible to tell, from our position, whether the F. gained upon the Cunarder or not, but it was generally thought that she had gained considerable, though still behind when she passed the Spit. They then separated, the Asia passing the North Channel and running due east, near the shore, and the Franklin rounding the Hook and running south under the Highlands.

The Pacific ran near the Light Ship, which she passed at 1:46, making the 7] miles from the Hook in 26 minutes. She kept on eastwardly until 21, running in all about 40 miles from her starting place, a portion of the time at the rate of 19 miles an hour, and every portion of her machinery work

Soon after coming about, Capt. Jarvis observed that the Franklin was lying to at the lower point of the Highlands and blowing off steam. Fearing she had met with some accident, Capt J. ran down to her and found that nothing had happened except some loosening of machinery, which was already repaired.

The Pacific bere up for the Hook, and the Frank. lin went off south; she will probably return to-day. Shortly after leaving the F. the Pacific met the little steamship New York, the new vessel of the same build as the Pacific, by the same builder, and for the same destination. It will be recollected that the New-York started for California several weeks since, but came back from 12:0 for some improvements and repairs. She started again yes. terday. The Pscific took off a passenger, and the vessels separated, those on the Pacific giving three hearty cheers for the New-York.

Previous to this, and before the Pacific reached the Franklin, Mr. Brown had invited his friends into the saloon, where a fine cold lunch had been prepared. This excellent feed disappeared before the sharp appetites, which had been imbibed with the sea air, like dew before the sun. A plentiful present from Bacchus closed the collation, with which all were highly pleased.

When the Pacific passed the Hook, the Franklin and the Asia were barely visible in the south and east. At the Quarantine we met the Southerner, exchanged salutations by way of cheers, &c-

As we were nearing Governor's Island, the Eastern boats came around the Battery and start ed up the East River, one of them bearing away the Divinity of the World of Song-Jenny Lind-Every one regretted that we had not been ten minutes earlier, as in that case we might have compa ny with Jenny for three miles.

The Pacific arrived at Twelfth-st. at 54, having run about 85 miles in six hours, stopping her engines five or six times during the trip-once to wait for the Asia, once to know what ailed the Franklin, once to speak with the New-York, and two or three times to clear vessels in the East

Altogether the trip showed the Pacific to be a most excellent and rapid ship, and the Franklin a worthy competitor of the much vaunted (and worth-

The weather was most delightful; the Bay was as smooth as glass, and the open sea was quiet save the slow, monotonous swell which is always in motion. There was not motion enough to create any internal emotion among the passengers, so that we were spared all the disagreeable consequences of a sea voyage, while enjoying all that it could afford of the delightful.

When the noble Pacific takes ber station on the Western Ocean, where the waves are as quiet as the name of the sea, she will no doubt become the favorite of the Argonautic fleet. She will be off, probably, in a month.

SEIZURE OF POWDER .- Policeman Allason of SEIZURE OF POWDER.—Policeman Allsson of the First Ward, seized on board the barge Cinton. lying at Pier No. 4, North River, a lot of powder, consisting of 90 large and 55 small kers, and 2) boxes. The whole of which was transferred from the barge to a lighter, and ancrored in the North River. The Fire Department claims the proceed-of such seizures, we believe, for the wide was and orthanse fund.

A VISIT TO THE CEMETERY OF THE EVER-GREENS .- Yerterday afternoon we made one of a company of twenty, who were whirled out of Brook yn in an omnibus of indefinite length, drawn by six grays. A ride of four mies, pleasant not withstanding the clouds of dust in which we were. enveloped, brought us to the entrance of the Ever greens' Cemetery. The view of the porter's lodge and shaded avenue leading up to the Fields of the Dead, is very pleasing. Although so freshly laid out and arranged, the tall forest tress give the place an ancient and impressive character. We passed some little lakes with miniature islands in them, and by a gentle ascent reached the Chapel whose tall Norman tower is seen over all the sur rounding woods. The air was too hazy for the more distant features of the landscape to be distinctly seen, but all between the hights of Hobohen and the white mansions of Rockaway lay spread before the eye in the mellow and matured beauty of the September time. Next to the lookout from Trinity spire and the summit of the Staten Island bills, it is the most charming bird's eye view_ in the neighborhood of our City. We spent some time in the tower, and were afterward driven along the edge of the hill, overlooking the famous City o East New-York, with Jamaica Bay in the back, ground, and the Neversink Hills far away, behind a wide breadth of sea. Through the politeness of Mr. Cummings and Mr. Graves, under whose au spices the excursion was got up, we lost none of the many beauties of the new Cemetery, and left it with a desire to return again, albeit not as a tenant of its damp and snaded chambers. In yesterday's Tribune we gave a full description of the place, which it is not necessary to repeat here. JENNY LIND'S DEPARTURE -In anticipation of the departure of Jenny Lind and her suite for Boston, the crowd began to collect about Pier No. 4 North River, where the Empire State was lying at an early hour. The carriage containing the party arrived about half past four, and the spectators pressed around it in such numbers, that it was with great difficulty that a way could be made for Mdlle. Lind to enter the boat. Once on board, she judged it best to keep out of sight, and therefore retired to her state-room, where she re, mained until the hour of departure. As the boat passed out of the dock, crowded with passengers, she came upon the hurricane deck, and in answer to the cheers of the crowd, which had by this time increased to several thousand, waved her handkerchief repeatedly. At this moment the Crescent City, lying near, discharged a gun, as a complimentary salute. The throng of spectators added nine hearty cheers, and Jenny again waved a grateful good bye. The Empire State passed into the stream-rounded Castle Garden, the scene of the Nightingale's triumphs-disappeared behind the masts along the East River piers -and Jenny was off for Boston, there to charm the staid Puritans into wilder extravagance and more exalted enthusiasm than that for which they have lately so gravely rebuked us New-Yorkers.

ANECDOTE OF JENNY LIND .- The following incident, narrated by a gentleman of this City, who can testify to its truth, exemplifies what we have said concerning the character of Jenny Lind's

When Mr. Macready, the tragedian, was last in this country, and with a number of friends was conversing on the Opera and music in general, he said he had always supposed himself invalorable as to its influences upon him; that he had heard every famed vocalist that had appeared before an every famed vocalist that had appeared before an English audience for the last twenty-five years, and they were lifeleas, powerless and destitute of a charm to him. "But," said he, "there is one woman who can break down every barrier to my inmost soul, and it was not till I heard her that the magic of music was known and fet by me, and that person is Jenny Lind. I was in vited," said he, "by some friends to go and hear her, they knowing I disclaimed all susceptibility to the power of music, and I went. Mademoisoile Lind commenced in one of her most pathetic pieces. At first I was astonished at her flexibility and comfirst I was astonished at her flexibility and compass of voice; gradually my astonishment became admiration, until I was a mepletoly charmed, and yielding to the charm, my soul became filled with its power, and it was not till a tear dropped from my cheek upon my hand that I knew how com-pletely absorbed I was by influences which I had never known before."

THE NEW HALL—The new musical hall in Mer-cer st. is to be named after its proprietor—Tripler Hall—instead of "Jenny Lind Hall," as has been talked about. It will be opened early next month, by Madame Anna Bishop. See advertisement.

The above has been handed in for insertion. We have not, however, the best reason for believing it correct, as it is contradicted by Mr. Barnum's ad' vertisement, which appeared first in yesterday's Tribune. It is not likely that Jenny Lind and Madame Bishop will sing in the same hall at the COAL -Mr. Editor : Allow me to ask, through The Tribune, why it is that this article of the first necessity is selling at 86 50 per tun, net weightwhich brings it up to $7 28 the gross tun, as they which brings it up to $7.22 the gross tun, at they sell it in Philadelphia? I see by your paper that cargo coal is quoted there at $4.25 to $4.50. I understand also that there is a probability of its reaching $7.50 here by the holidays, in the face of large supplies constantly arriving and in sufficient quantitles to meet all possible demands. An answer would very much oblige A Housekeeper.

The reason of the rise in coal we understand to be this: The late freshet on the Schuylkill has damaged the canal to such an extent as to stop the further transportation of coal for some time -The coal merchants, anticipating a deficiency in the supply, have speculatively advanced the price. although there is at present an abundance on hand. The Reading Railroad carries about 40,000 tons per week, which, with the present increased consumption of the article, is but a moderate supply.

PICTURE OF HAYNAU'S DRUBBING .- We have received a very spirited lithograph, entitled "  $\Lambda$ slight indication of the regard which the English People entertained for the Butcher Haynau, on his visiting the Brewery of Mesers Barclay, Perkins & Co." It represents the Butcher, in a pitiable plight, with his bat knocked over his ever his moustache in the hands of a burly brewer, an imp of a boy dashing a bucket of water upon him, and a crowd of assailants in the rear. The picture shows a good deal of talent. It is the work of Mr-Antonio Fay, a German artist, by whom it is also published, at 86 Franklin st.

SYMPATHY WITH THE HAYNAU ASSAILANTS -It is said that a superb silver flagon is to presented by the Mechanics and Brewers of this City to the workmen of Messrs. Barclay & Perkins's Brewery in London, in commemoration "for their heroid corduct in chastising the Butcher Haynau." The flagon is to be of large size, embossed with a view of the chastisement on one side, and with a suitable inscription on the other.

TRAINING .- People subject to military duty should be aware that the time for commutation is rapidly drawing to a close. If they don't look out they will have to turn out for " General Trainin' on the 4th of O tober next.

PRICE TWO CENTS.

PRINTERS' UNION SCALE REJECTED .- The meeting of the Employing Printers last night, at the City Hotel, was attended by the representatives of thirty three establishments. The Report of the Committee, appointed at a previous meeting, on the Printers' Union Scale of Prices, was received and discussed. When the matter came to a vote, the Scale of Prices was rejected, there being 14 Yeas and 19 Nays. We had hoped for a different result, or at least for some sort of compromise proposition, and we cannot but regret this peremptory rejection. We still think that if the Employers could vote secording to the extent of their bast. ness, the Scale would be in the main acceded to We know that several of the largest and most in. fluential and enterprising firms in the trade are willing to accede to the requests of the Journeymen. We are informed that the principal reason for this rejection was that publishers had stated that they would not advance contract prices in proportion. A prudent but firm course on the part of those most interested may yet bring about a satisfactory adjustment. The matter will come before the Printers' Union on Saturday night, when every member should be in his place.

A HUNGARIAN PHYSICIAN.-Among the Hunga. rian refugees lately arrived in this City is Dr. Lub-WIG STEIN, formerly Chief Surgeon under Dem. binski, and afterward under Messacos. He participated in many of the battles fought by these Gen" erals, and after the fall of Hungary fled to this country, bringing his two little sons with him. He is a man of talent and education, and intends establishing himself to practice as a homeopathic physician. One of his sons-a boy of six years of age- shows a remarkable genius for drawing, and we hope some one may be found generous enough to give him an education beditting an artist, for which he seems evidently designed. We examined a number of his childish skatches of the battles he has witnessed, and all of them display a faculty very unusual in one of his years.

BRADY'S PORTRAIT OF JENNY LIND -We have rarely seen finer specimens of the Daguerrian arts than the two portraits of Jenny Lind, now exhibit ed in Mr. Brady's Rooms. A more difficult sub. ject could scarcely be found. The expression of Midle. Lind's face, like that of all persons of genius, is exceedingly variable, reflecting with an unconcious fidelity the slightest shades of thought and feeling, and hence at different times possessing an entirely different character. Of the eight pic tures taken by Mr. Brady, no two are precisely simliar, yet all that we have seen are very life. life and faitful. One of them which now lies before us, lithographed by D'Avignon, is an exact type of ber face in repose, and so far, is the only engraving we have seen which conveys a just impression of her face. The serene and beautiful forehead; the large, clear eye, beaming with sincerity and be nevolence; the expressive mouth, marked by a certain character of strength and decision; and the singularly light and graceful poine of her head, are all represented with entire lidelity. Few who have heard Jenny Lind will fail to procure this presentment of her countenence.

LETTER FROM GEN. AVEZZANA

NEW YORK, Tuesday, 24th Sopt 1850.
To the Editor of The New York Tribune:
The Washington correspondent of the Herald reports as a rumor that I am enlisted in a new military expedition, supposed to be in preparation for the delivery of the Island of Cuba. I am obliged positively to protest that such insinuation is wholly unfounded. Undoubtedly I should heartly rejoice in the liberty and Independence of that as well as of any other country now curbed under tyranny; but I am personally extraneous to such project, neither have I ever thought of it. The business in which I am engaged for the support of the first does not allow me to participate in any business in which I am engaged for the support of my family does not allow me to participate in any contest than for the rescue of my native country at the proper moment, or for this my adopted one, should any occasion need the arms of its citizens. I pray you, Mr Editor, to give publicity to this letter, for the sake of truth.

Yours, respectfully, Gen. J. AVEZZANA.

SOMETHING NEW IN THE WAY OF ADVERTISING. A Chinese Sedan shaped cart came down Broadway yes lerday and passed our office, on its way to Wall at for exhibition. We noticed it as it was drawn by, seemingly tithout springs, (of course the Chinese know nothing of such juxuries), its panels painted with red and gold, and ornamented with paintings, the roof formed after the taste of the "Celestials," and the whole affair baving the appearance of Asiatic origin. The harness was a kind of trapping entirely original, being made of different colors, scolloped out, with Chinese characters stitched in, similar to those on the cart, and explaining in their language for what pur pose it was to be used. The whole is a gaudy concern ways on hand to do the thing right. They are young men, and we hope our friends under our "Esstern wing" will continue to make them "smile," as they have the past year-The Sedan is sure to take, for we think the Brooklyn gento it informed us it was for Goff & Day's Hong Tea Store,

LOOMIS'S PANORAMA OF CUBA .- In a few days tals most exculsite work will be on exhibition at the Minerva Rooms, Broadway. It is executed from Mr. Loomis's original sketches, made during six years' residence in that supply land. The Captain General granted to this accomplished artist as a special favor a license to travel and make such drawings as he might desire. Mr. Loomis's laient as an artist and just observer of social life, added to the knowledge he acquired by his long and free intercourse with that people, give him every advantage for the work which he has undertaken, and promise the most successful as a Musical teacher is well known, has returned from the country to resume his business. Bealde his instruction to individuals, in all branches of vocal music, he will soon open evening classes of more than ordinary interest. His rooms are at 413 Broadway.

MILITARY.-The Union Guards, after enjoying a pleasant time of it at Newburgh since Monday last, returned from their excursion about noon yes terday, with a well riddled target and a profusion of flowers. They made a fine appearance.

The Fifth Brigade of New York State Militia, commanded by Gen. H. B. Duryea, will parade for inspection and review on Monday, the 30th inst. in fall uniform. The line will be formed in Hicksat. right on Cranberry, Brooklyn, at half past 9 o'clock A M. This brigade is composed of the Thirteenth Regiment, Col. Abel Smith, and the Fourteenth Regiment, Col. Philip S. Crooke. The various artillery companies are to parade with batteries, and will be consolidated for the day into an artillery battalion, under the command of Col Crooke. The colors are to be shrouded, as per general orders, in honor of the late President. This parade will doubtless be the fullest and most brilliant exhibition of uniformed troops yet made by the brigade, as new companies have been added since the last annual inspection and others have renewed their uniforms and filled up their ranks. A great deal of attention has been paid to discipline during the past year, and the desire to become efficient is gratifyingly apparent to all who take an interest in well trained militia. Gen. Duryea has labored unceasingly to promote the welfare of his command, from his own staff down to the newly enlisted recruits of the various com

CITY CHARTER -The Trustees refused the use of their ball for the meeting Wednesday evening, in the First District, to elect Delegates, so that the meeting had to be held elsewhere. The ground of refusal was that the Hall was intended solely for the use of the Trustees.

FIRE ALARM.-The slarm on Tuesday evening was caused by the bursting of a camphene lamp at Mr. Hanford's hat store, Grand at. But little damage was done. The alarm in the night, we understand, was false.

JERSEY CITY ITEMS.

FIRE AT THE ADIRONDACK STEEL MANUFAC-TURING COMPANY .- A fire broke out at about 114 A. M. yesterday, at these works, which are made of wood, and in three minutes the principal build. ing (the melting and hammering shops) and the eastern sheds were enveloped in fiames. The Jersey City and Hoboken firemen, with their engines, were promptly on hand, and the remainder of the buildings of these extensive works were saved. The machinery was saved but slightly injured. The Company expect to be in operation again in about two months, and we understand that, although it was but an experiment, (being the only manufactory of the kind in the United States.) it turned out a tun of merchantable Cast Steel, thus demonstrating the practicability of the enterprise. The portion of the building which was destroyed embraced all the workshops, which were 75 by 40 feet, and the sheds were used for making brick. The works are situated about one-quarter of a mile south of the ferry on the banks of the River. The losses are not quite as certained, but they will not exceed $6,000, the retardment of the business excepted. We should Judge, from the specimens shown us, that this Company manufacture an exxellent article of Steel-Some of the bars were disfigured by the fire, with-

THE GALPHIN CLAIM.

Decision thereon of ELISHA WHITTLESEY, First Controller of the Treasury, overruled by Secretary MEREDITH in deference to the adverse opinion of Attorney-Gen. Johnson. CONTROLLER'S OFFICE, August 13, 1849.
To Hon. WM. M. MEREDITH, Seretary of the Treasury:

The papers in the case of Milledge Galphin, executor of the last will and testament of George Galphin, deceased, having been referred to me to report more fully on the question of interest, I submit the following in obedience to your request. The amount to be paid under the act approved on the 14th day of August, 1848, for the relief of said executor was ascertained and sanotioned by the Secretary of the Treasury on the 28th day of February, 1849. This was the first liquidation of the claim by the United States. The first and only admission that the United States were bound to pay this claim, was by the act aforesaid, and whether any and what amount was due, depended on the decision of the Secretary of the Treasury, after he should examine dispose of them to pay the debts the Indians owed to Indian tracers.

A paper lettered "B, Extract of Treaty 1773," contains the following extract: "In consideration whereof, it is agreed on the part of His Majesty that the moneys arising from the sales of the land ceded as aforesaid, after defraying the expenses of this Congress, and such other charges and expenses, as will necessarily arise in carrying this measure into execution shall be applied to ward the pay ment and satisfaction of such debts as shall be jointly due and owing from the Indians to their traders aforesaid."

The Colonial Government created a commission to sell the lands and to liquidate the amounts respectively due to each locitan trader, and said commission on the 26d day of May, 1775, did figuidate mission on the 26d day of May, 1775, did figuidate the claim of George Galphin, and gave him a certificate for the amount of £791 15s. 5d.

As the sums a warded were to be paid out of a trust, the finding of the Commissioners only assertished the amount of the debt, and the proportion that would be paid, must depend on various continuences. The Governor and Council, on the 6th day of

The Governor and Council, on the 6th day of June, 1775, sanctioned the report, and found due to Grorge Galphin the said sum of £9,791 155, and George Gaipmin the said sum of 25,781 for a fart entered upon their record "that the same was pay-able out of such mone; a can have and may true by the sale of the lands lataly coded to Has Majary by the Greeks and Cherokes Indians, after the payment of the expenses attending Gragness held with the Indians for obtaining the cossion store-
